ilwaco high school

Vol. 67

Marjorie Beard came to the peninsula to fill in a gap.

The Ocean Beach School District was in need of a teacher to fill in until a permanent replacement could be found. That was 28 years ago. They're still looking for a replacement.

Mrs. Beard came to the area with three years plus of teaching experience and a baby on the way.

The child, a boy, the first son of Marge and her husband Nathan (Toby), was born New Year's Eve and she was back on the job before the ensuing semester started.

She hasn't missed a beat since.

Her activities at Ilwaco High School have been some of the most visible to the public. She handled commencement speeches while Supt. Carl Aase took care of the graduation ceremony until Aase retired in 1969 and from then on she has run the entire commencement show.

Over the years, Mrs. Beard has developed a rapport with the graduating seniors. That understanding was especially evident with the Class of 1983.

After giving her address as class representative, Kim Cadwell presented a blushing Mrs. Beard with a bouquet of red roses, saying: "This is just our way of showing Mrs. Beard our appreciation for all the hours she has put in to help us this year. She's always there."

Mrs. Beard has also been there for the pep club, the cheerleaders, the honor society, homecoming, and as senior class advisor at various times.

As pep club advisor, she has had a pulse on the spirit of IHS. A spirit some say is dwindling.

"The interest here is no less than it ever was," Mrs. Beard said in a recent interview. "It's the attendance that is down but a lot of that is because there are so many more activities. There's something going on every night of the week. And no one can make it to everything. There's a lot of picking and choosing going on."

Activity attendance is also affected by the number of non-permanent students at IHS, she says.

"Even though the school is much larger than it was, the number of migrant or transient students is so much more," Mrs. Beard explained. "Most of them aren't here long enough even to get a feel for the school. You have to be in a place for a while to identify with it."

Another damper to student pep involvement can be traced to their employment. A larger percentage of students is holding part-time and even full-time jobs.

"I don't believe a 16-year-old kid should have to be self-supporting but there are such kids at this school,"

Mrs. Beard said. "Kids that age have too many other things to worry about."

Mrs. Beard said she sees the ever increasing pressures on high school students coming through in essays by members of her senior English class.

"A lot of hostilities came out (in the essays)," Beard said. "A lot of them are very tired. I had one girl who was going to school, living on her own and holding down a job. It was just too much."

Teaching senior English has been one of Beard's mainstays at IHS. Jean Nitzel, a student of Mrs. Beard 20 years ago, recalls her mentor.

"She was one of my favorite teachers," Nitzel said. "She cared so much about her kids. You couldn't help but care back."

"I've always wanted the best for the kids," Mrs. Beard said. "I think school and education are very important. In my class, I don't deviate. If it is important enough, it will be included in the curriculum. I try to make every day a worthwhile experience for them."

With 28 years of teaching at IHS under her belt, Mrs. Beard has thought about retirement. It even crossed her mind following this year.

She had originally planned to retire one year after her second son, Jim, a 1974 IHS graduate, completed college. He has since completed law school as did number one son Mark, who graduated from Ilwaco in 1971.

She would also like to spend more time with her husband, Toby, who retired from work for the State of Washington several years ago.

"We've had season tickets to the Seahawks the last two years and I have yet to make it to a game," Mrs. Beard said. "I've always had something come up with school that made it impossible to go."

If she does retire, she doesn't plan to sit and knit the proverbial sweater. She'd like to do volunteer work or substitute teaching at the school.

"At some point, you lose the rapport with teenagers, then it's time to get out and let someone younger do the job," Mrs. Beard said. "Most people don't remember what it's like to be a teenager. They just remember the good things. I remember everything. It's tough and getting tougher."

And Marge Beard's job doesn't get any easier. When this interview was completed, most of the students and teachers had gone home. Mrs. Beard said she was going to stick around for a while.

She promised next year's cheerleaders she would watch their routine to the song "Smoke on the Water."

Class of 1983 points for success

Graduation

Class representative Kim Cadwell further dispelled the notion that her fellow graduates constitute a sub-par group by citing some statistics.

Ten of Ilwaco's graduating seniors have already been accepted to four-year colleges, another eight have been accepted at two-year technical schools. As a whole, the class has a 2.6 grade point average and eight have a GPA of 3.5 or better.

That diverse class has benefitted from its environs, added Melinda Williams, salutatorian.

We were fortunate to go to a small school in a small, close-knit community to support us," Williams said. Williams added that though she and her friends will head for separate futures, a piece of IHS will remain with them. Said she: "We always and forever will be Ilwaco's Class of 1983."

Expect the unexpected from the Ilwaco High School class of 1983, intoned Wendy Manula, faculty representative speaker, during commencement exercises at the school gymnasium June 6.

Valedictorian Chris Olsen, who has a 4.0 ("A") average for his four years at IHS, called for he and his classmates to "build for the future by examining" their past, seeking out inadequacies so that they might be improved.

"As long as we play out individual roles to the fullest," Olsen said, "we will benefit from our diversity."

Honors

This year's Margaret G. Myers Scholarships of $500 apiece went to Williams and Tim Wright, the senior class president. Applicants for the Myers' scholarship must submit a 300 to 500 word essay on the topic "Why I deserve this scholarship."

Two one-time scholarships of $1,500 each were presented on behalf of the Richard Douglas Hendrickson Memorial Scholarship Fund to Larry Peterson and Randolph Staudenraus.

This year's Marie Hamilton Trust scholarships totaled $31,221. The scholarships are awarded on the basis of academic performance, student extracurricular participation, citizenship, need and general worthiness, according to Ginnie Aardal, Ocean Beach School District director.

Hamilton scholarships were given out as follows: $4,000 to Olsen, $3,950 to Williams, Manula, Wright, Rutherford and Jackson; $3,000 to Debbie Hansen and Bannister, and $735.50 to Lisa Maxwell-Muir and Diane Oebser.

Our spirited class let themselves be known as pink and black painting the lobby patio, the skylight in the senior hall, and a wooden Oscar which also hung in the senior hall. We had much fun painting(vandalizing?) which we came during the night to do.

The officers who led our class over the year were Tim Wright president; Ann Peterson vice-president; Amy Alexander secretary; and Leland Rutherford representative. These people helped organize the homecoming float with the theme of "Shake and Bake those Seagulls". It was also the time that Amy Alexander Anne Bannister and Wendy Manula were chosen to represent their class as homecoming princesses.

Mrs. Beard the lady Kim Cadwell presented roses to at graduation was our advisor and good friend. She assisted us with our haunted house for the carnival—which was a little under the weather. She also helped us organize our Senior trip.

We started out at the zoo and omsi (really some started at Red Lake) and after that we went to Oaks Park where we ate lunch, went roller skating, and got nauseous on the rides. Since we had a little time to spare we went to Jantzen Beach Mall and bummed around until the drag races started at the P.I.R. After that we went and ate dinner at Who Song and Larry's (Don't drink the water Drink Margaritas!!). There we said it was Pat Card and Clinton Armstrong's birthday so they got a real nice cake.

As for sports we had many participants. At the state level the volleyball team took 7th place. We had 4 seniors that started and did a darn good job. Girls and boys basketball also had their share. Ann Peterson played basketball on a junior olympics team (incidentally she was also named most athletic of our class). Wendy Manula recieved the Mary Ann Staudenraus award it is for the most inspirational senior girl athlete. As for cross country and track we only had a few turnout but with their help they made those teams the best they possibly could.

One thing I think all seniors will remember is our senior sneak. I believe we are the only class that hasn't been caught. We went to the Naselle River and made our own little (soda pop?) tree. For this we had to come to Saturday school and do papers on Reaganomics. However we only stayed for two of the four hours so we got off easy. Getting off easy is how I would describe our class this year.

Seniors

Kim having loads of fun.

Hungry Jason?

Melinda, the first human carrot!

Raime is always working hard.

Okay Mike, tell us what is so funny

This year Student Council sponsored a magazine drive, canned food drive, dance for the Seniors, a Superdance for Muscular Dystrophy, and got the band for Homecoming (after some confusion and mix up). We also allotted one thousand dollars for a stereo next year.

Led by Anne Bannister, president; Lisa Maxwell-Muir, vice-president; Kim Jackson, secretary; and Christine Yaun, treasurer, we went to a Student Council conference in Yakima. Having eleven people attend, we wnet to five different sessions and a banquet and dance afterwards.

"All in all I would say it was a very good year," said President Anne Bannister.

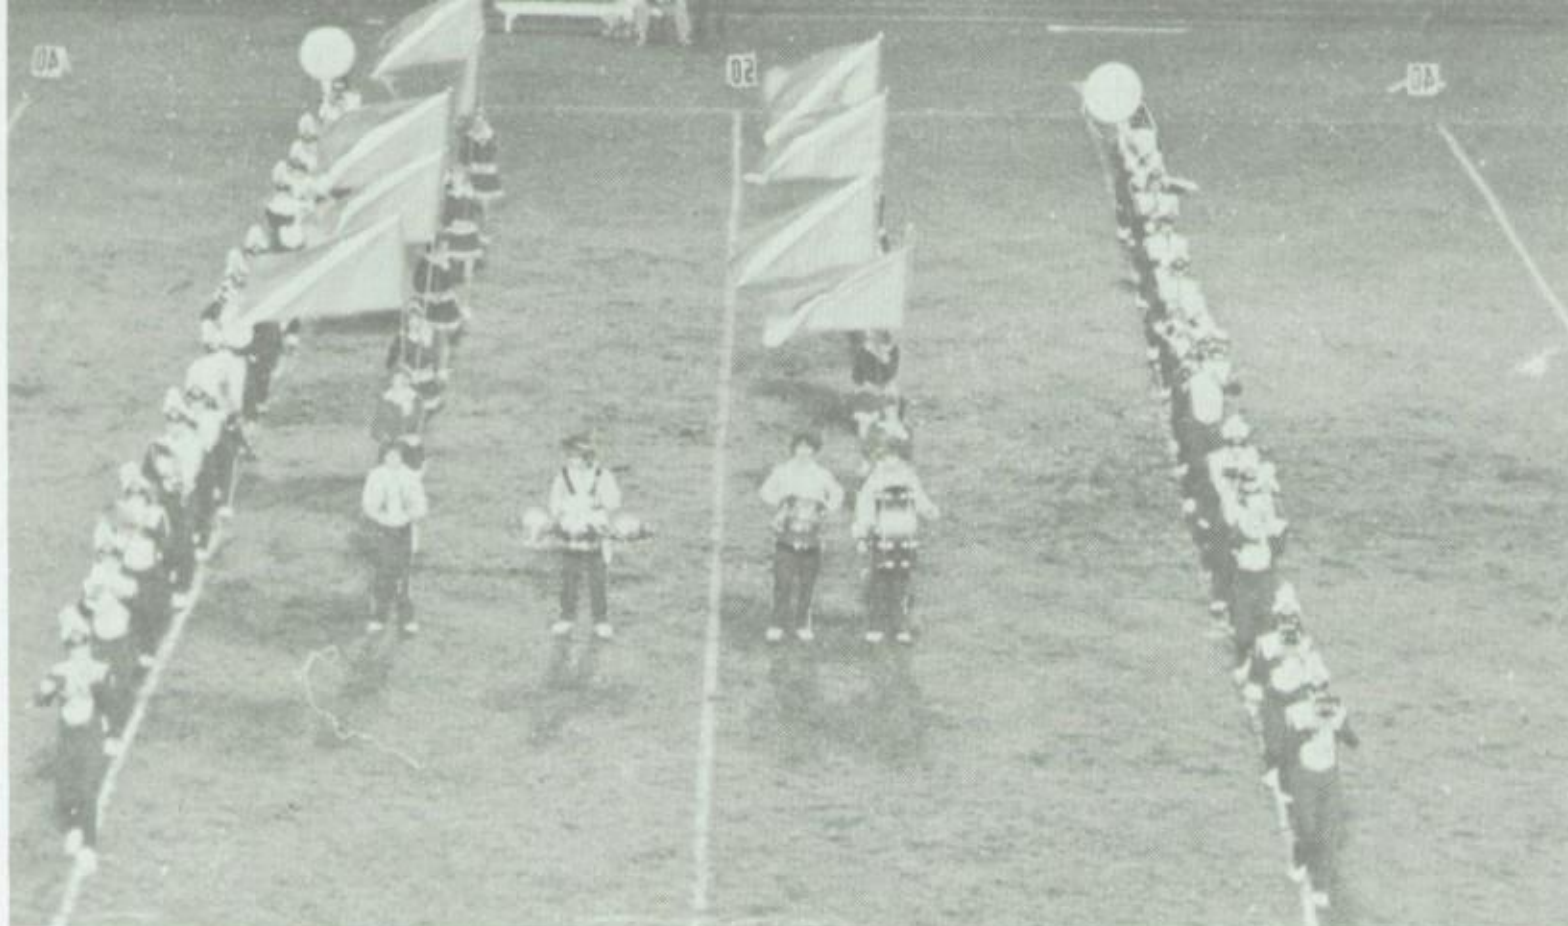

Honor Society

Over half of the Honor Society this year consisted of new members. For fund raising they sold M—&—M's and had the usual Honor Society Carnival. With all the money made most agreed to going to Kah-nee-tah. Everyone had fun..doing things like short-sheeting beds, putting vaseline on doorknobs, having a dance and a marshmellow fight, playing volleyball, and swimming and sunning.

The Drill Team performed with the band at football games and marched with them in the Loyalty Day Parade this year. During basketball season they did one routine on their own called "Spies in the Night." The Drill Team was led by Captain Michelle Baker.

Olsen takes first

Five attend convention

Chris Olsen took first place in an on-the-spot newswriting contest at the Journalism Association Convention and Contest held at the Seattle Sheraton last weekend.

Olsen, who is editor of the Golden I, competed against 78 journalists from schools as far away as Southern California, Kansas, and Alaska. After listening to a speaker, viewing a film, and participating in a press conference, the contestants were given 70 minutes to write the story.

Judged by professional journalists, Olsen's story won because of a high impact lead, according to Lou Chapin, contest chairman.

Entering in competition but not placing were Melissa Aase (feature writing) and Rob Hall (editorial writing).

"There was a lot of pressure because there were so many people in the room all trying to do better than you," said Aase.

"I can't believe it," is what Olsen had to say, repeating it about 10 times.

Also attending were junior Dan Klump and advisor Brigid Stucki.

The five attended learning sessions dealing with different aspects of journalism.

Last year at the same competition in San Francisco then editor Becky Smerchek earned an Honorable Mention in news writing. Next year the convention will be held in Phoenix.

Cross country shows endurance at Fort Canby

The girls cross country team continues to impress as they thumped highly rated Ocosta in a recent meet at Fort Canby.

Sophomore Kris Herzog was the overall winner as she breezed through the 3.7 mile course in 25:53. The rest of the female runners from Ilwaco were not far behind.

Sophomore Cheryl Seigmann was third with a time of 26:54. Senior Lisa Maxwell-Muir and sophomore Jeri Smith continued to improve as they finished 5th and 6th respectively. Not far behind were juniors Cindylynn Gilpen, 8th; and Jenny Jones, 11th.

It was another story on the boys side at Castle Rock came within two points of attaining a perfect score of 15. Although Ilwaco came in second overall, they were considerably behind, 17-52.

Out of the first 12 runners, Castle Rock had 11 runners cross the finish line. Senior Leland Rutherford was the lone Fisherman in the forerunners. Rutherford hit the tape in 21:18 for a 4th place finish. Bob Plyler was the top finisher for Castle Rock.

Other finishers for the Fishermen were David McHolm 13th, 23:01; Rob Hall, 20th, 24:36; Troy 22nd, 25:00; Troy Longwith, 27th, 25:41; Kevin Parke, 31st, 26:35; Jon Marsh, 32nd, 26:39; and Cris Weigardt, 36th, 28:43.

Female cross country runners are looking seriously for a trip to state this year, but lack of numbers may be the only thing holding them back. The talent is there as evident in their consistently high placings in recent meets, but with only six girls out it will be a rough road ahead of them. Cheryl Herzog, who looked strong against Tom Millbrooke figures the guys are going to have to work a little harder for a state trip but he believes they will put in the roadwork. One runner who has put in the work is senior Leland Rutherford. Rutherford finished second to North Beach's Curt at the South Bend meet, but it is

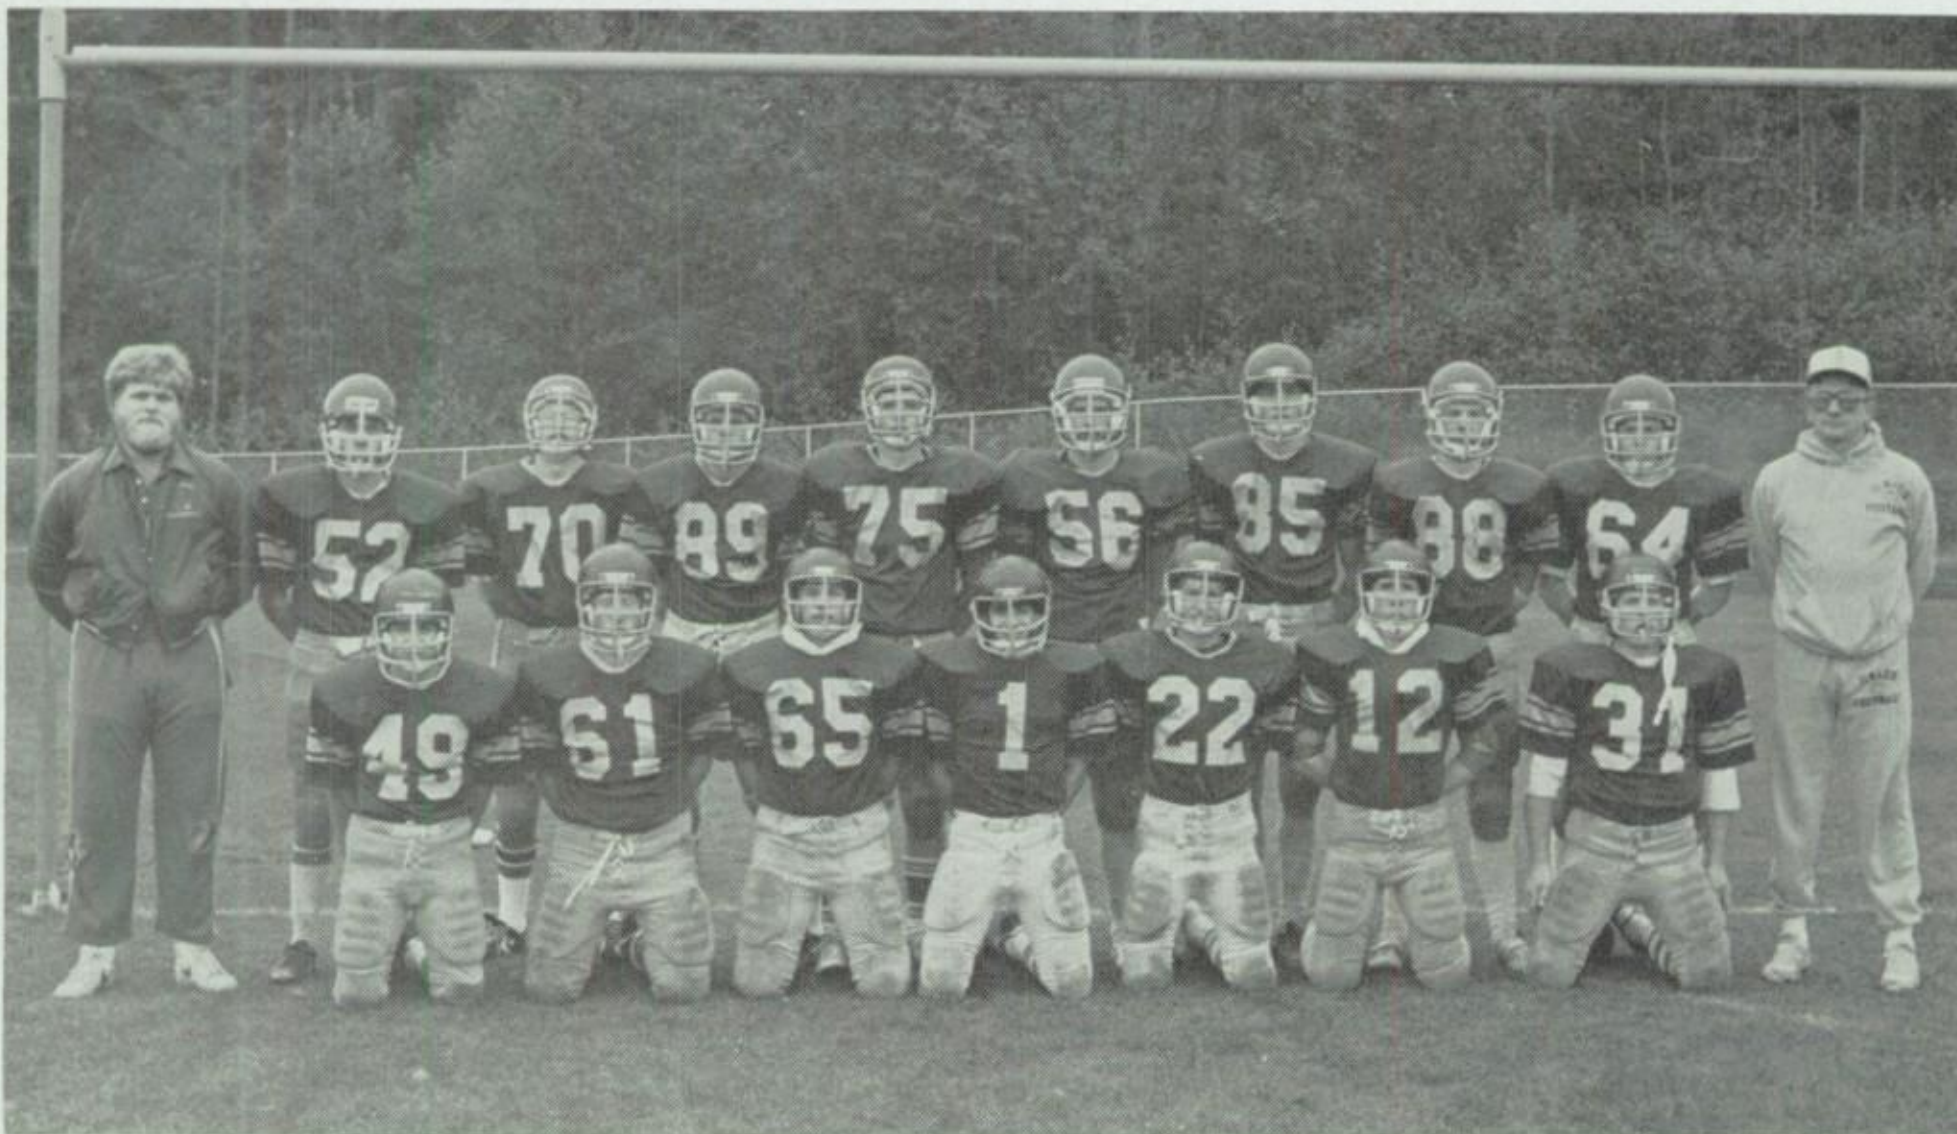

With six of the top seven runners from last years team having graduated, this years boys team was fairly inexperienced. Senior Leland Rutherford led the team all year and eventually won the League title.

For the first time ever, Ilwaco had a girls cross country team go to State. At league, Ilwaco had one of its worse races, placing third, but at District, they ran well and placed second, only three points behind first place Monte. Kris Herzog took 1st at both League and District, while teammate Cheryl Siegmman took 4th at both races. The girls finished off the year by placing 8th at State.

Spikers clinch spot in district as League champs

By DAVE WALLACE

Ilwaco's varsity volleyball team has clinched a spot in the district playoffs by winning five straight league games after an earlier 3-0 start.

On Oct. 7, the Fishermen traveled to Forks to take on the Spartans. It was evident that Forks was outclassed that day as the Fishermen crushed Forks, 15-1 15-2.

Senior Anne Bannister scored five points and junior Gena Snow scored four in the first game, then Snow scored eight and Bannister six in the second game.

A week later, Ilwaco topped Ocosta at home in three games. Senior Wendy Manula scored a big nine points as Ilwaco upended the Wildcats 15-9. In the second game, Ocosta rallied to tie the match at 1-1 with a 15-8 win.

Bannister scored three for Ilwaco. In the rubber game, Ilwaco flexed its muscles as they whipped the Wildcats, 15-5, as Bannister scored six.

One night later, the Fishermen thrashed Forks 15-7, 15-8 in the rematch at Ilwaco. Senior Melinda Williams scored five points in both games for the Fishermen.

Behind the extraordinary serving of Manula, the Fishermen fode her eleven points to beat the Hyaks of North Beach 15-5 in the first game of their league encounter at home. In game two Snow scored 8 points in the deciding game to lead Ilwaco to a 15-10 win.

At Raymond on Oct. 21, the Fishermen met the challenge of the Seagulls with a 15-7 and tough 15-13 victory. Senior Teri Mauch topped Fishermen scores with five points in the first game, while Manula scored eight in the final.

The Fishermen don't plan to rest on their laurels just yet. "We would like to finish league undefeated and enter district, and then hopefully make state," commented Williams.

With only five returning players from last year, they swept the League title with a 9-1 record, and placed 2nd in district, losing to Castle Rock in the finals.

Gena Snow was named "Most valuable", Melinda Williams recieved "Most inspirational", and Shannon Brooks grabbed "Most improved."

"Everyone thought we would be rebuilding this year and not much of a threat," stated Coach Lynette Wiegardt. Well this year the volleyball team surprized everybody and got a big 7th place in state—the best any team from Ilwaco has ever done.

1st row—Dana Newsom, Tracy Nelson, Yumi Peterson, Ana Maria Lagunas;

Four wrestlers make District

Four IHS wrestlers placed fourth or better in their weight class at the sub-regionals which were held at Raymond High School.

Of the four, junior Walter Orr at 115 pounds was the top finisher on the team, placing second. Orr followed up a first round bye by pinning Mike Collins of Raymond in the first round, then went on to the finals and was beat, 19-1, by Kelly Ginther from South Bend.

Senior Mike Eros, at 122, pinned Tony Moroldo from North Beach in the third round. Eros then lost to Ron Prior from Forks by a pin in the second round, and pinned Erik Lungreen from Ocosta and then lost to Scott Pearson from Raymond 13-0 giving him a fourth place finish.

Sophomore David Millner at 141 pinned Jeff Dunge from Ocosta in the third round, then was pinned by John Wilson from Valley in the second round, in a decision match by Brian Alexander from Montesano 4-0, and was pinned by Blair Wardstadt in the third round. Millner placed fourth.

Senior Jamie Williams at 178, pinned Brad Heather from Forks in the third round, then was beat by decision by Don Watkins from Ocosta 9-6.

Williams then won by decision against Carl Adair from Naselle 10-0, and again pinned Brad Heather from Forks giving Williams third.

Fifth place finishers were David Quimby at 108, Buddy Sherman at 148, and Brett Finlay at 168. These wrestlers did not place high enough to to to regionals, but they got a medal for their efforts.

Competing but not placing were Chris Staudenraus at 129, Doug Skordal at 135, Bill Tufts at 158, and Jerry Capps at 190.

The next Saturday, at Toutle Lake, Mike Eros was the top finisher on the team, placing sixth, but that wasn't good enough to go to state.

Orr, Millner, and Williams lost two of their matches consecutively which knocked all three of them out of the competition. This is the first time in five years that nobody has gone to state for IHS and Coach Virgil Burger was a little disappointed.

"I thought they would do better than they did, but we have next year," said Burger.

After the tournament Orr finished up the season with 21 wins and 5 losses, Eros finished up the season with 17 wins and 8 losses, Millner finished up with 12 wins and 10 losses, and Williams completed the season with 14 wins and 7 losses.

"We had a young team this year and we did pretty well but next year we should do much better," said Burger.

Unlucky

Fishermen 1-3 in league

By DAVE WALLACE

This year, vintage 1983, hasn't been a happy one thus far for Ilwaco's basketball team.

On January 4, the Fishermen entered the league. Vikings in the final non-league game, the Fishermen raced out and never relinquished the lead.

Against Ocosta on Feb. 1 at home, Ilwaco came away with a bad taste in their mouths after losing 52-50. The big story of this game was the score from the line. Ocosta shot a fair 12-20, compared to Ilwaco's poor 2-7. Allen Fraley and Frank Dumich combined for 34 points for the bulk of Ilwaco's points. Against Raymond there three nights later, the Fishermen had a season full of disappointments in one game. Gaining leads up to 13 points one time in the second period, only to see that evaporate into a 29-25 halftime advantage. In the fourth period, Raymond won the game at the charity stripe. During the game, Ilwaco actually chalked up eight more field goals than Raymond, but it didn't make a big difference as the Ilwaco scorers with 13.

The Fishermen faced the Forks Spartans needing a victory on Jan. 11 to force a play-off with Ocosta for the fourth and final time in the season. The Fishermen were disappointed. Despite, probably their best season enroute to an upset 49-39 win, finishing 4-6, the Fishermen ended the season with 8 a piece.

and district decision, Ocosta was awarded the play-off spot. In the league game by a final count of 59-46. Frank Staudenraus scored 9 points, followed by Larry Dumich, Larry Peterson, and Allen Fraley with 8 a piece.

play

On the clock down for the final shot. On the play, Jones was fouled and sank 1 of 2 for the score.

Ilwaco 4-0 and number 1 in league and escaped with a tight 45-43 win. Down by the quarter, Ilwaco aided by some missed throws, rallied around Frank Dumich and at the buzzer did them in. Dumich es with 25 points.

there on January 22 the Fishermen league game by a final count of 59-46. Frank Staudenraus scored 9 points, followed by Larry Dumich, Larry Peterson, and Allen Fraley with 8 a piece.

Snow dominates girl's B-Ball season

In scoring, Snow landed 16.4 points a game over the 23 game season. Guards Ann Peterson, a senior, and Jill Sagmiller, a junior, were number two and three with 10.5 and 7.2 points respectively.

Snow found the basket almost half the time as she made 138 of 302 field goal attempts for a team-leading .457 average. Senior Kim Cadwell was second in field goal percentage with .413.

From the free throw line it was Snow again coming 85-127 free throws for a .669 percentage.

Off the glass, Snow hauled in 197 caroms, which is nearly 19 a game. Cadwell was a close second with 143.

Peterson and Sagmiller had the quickest hands, leading the team in steals with 73 and 68 respectively. Senior Wendy Manula proved to be the most unselfish player by hauling out 64 assists.

The Fishermen were 10-0 in league this year and were 16-6 overall, averaging 47.2 points a game, while their opponents netted only 41.0 points a game.

Golf Team

The Ilwaco golf team may have placed 11th out of 13 teams in the Southwest Washington Sub-district Tournament May 4 but there is still reason for satisfaction.

The Fishermen, who placed third in the Far West League tourney, beat out fellow league foes Raymond and North Beach and finished just two strokes behind league champ Montesano.

"Last year we were dead last," said Ilwaco coach Pat Bell. "This year, we finished in front of two teams; that's a 200 percent improvement. We also beat Raymond, finally. They (Raymond) didn't have one of their best days but it was still good to beat them."

Ironically, Raymond and Montesano had played practice rounds on the Capitol City Golf Course, the host course for sub-district, Ilwaco had not.

Last year, the Fishermen carded a collective 437. This year the score was 381, an improvement of 56 strokes.

"Last year, we didn't have anyone break 100," Bell said. "This year, we had three people shoot under 100."

Ilwaco's number one man, Pat George, earned team medalist honors with an 18-hole total of 88, shooting 45 on the front nine and 43 on the back nine. Jeff Jackson of sub-district champ Capital was overall medalist, firing a 70 on the par 72 course.

Following George into the Ilwaco clubhouse were Rich Schisler with a 96, Dan Klump at 97, Kelly Keightley at 100 and Rex Wilson at 122.

Team scores were as follows (the top five advanced to district): Capital 298, Tumwater 317, Olympia 319, Elma 329, Aberdeen 332, Hoquiam 332, Timberline 342, Shelton 358, North Thurston 361, Montesano 379, Ilwaco 381, Raymond 388, North Beach 427.
